Synopsis: Internet sleuth (or "webtective") Dot Conner (Gili Gould) receives a frantic phone call from her father on the eve of her first day of high school, plunging her into an adventure she never expected to face. As Dot navigates the rocky start of her high school life, she uncovers the first of many cryptic clues her father has left behind, setting her and friends Makayla (Lauryn McCardell) and Alex (Ethan Pogue) on a quest through the city. The search for Dot's father quickly unravels into a much larger mystery, revealing his deep involvement in a world of espionage. Amid the chaos, Dot learns to lean on God to overcome the daunting challenges ahead, proving that even in the darkest times, faith can light the way. Written and directed by Andrew Huff, featuring Drew Waters and Jason Marsden.
